

Rollan Jones seemed to always have trouble getting his hay up without it raining on it. So he cut the grass by R. Anell Homes, dried it, baled it, loaded it on a ~~trailer~~ trailer and started for home. The ~~exhaust~~ exhaust from the tractor ignited the hay and this is the result, wet again.

N.C. 28092 MONDAY-AUGUST 18, 1975

Single Copy: FIFTEEN CENTS

More Heat

As if the day were not hot enough already, ~~Rollan~~ Jones of Denver received quite a surprise when he looked back Saturday afternoon and discovered that his trailer loaded with hay was on fire. The Denver Volunteer Fire Department was on hand to fight the blaze on Hwy. 150 which blocked traffic for approximately a half hour. Jones estimated the value of the hay at $150.

(T-N photo by Crouse)